

The first 4 parts of the series are recorded videos ranging from 13-23 minutes each, not including time to do the quick activities or to complete the assignments afterward. The 5th part of the series is a live virtual Q&A with me.

There are two versions - one for grades 2 and 3 and one for grades 4 & 5. Schools that sign up for the series will gain access to the 4 videos (for their grade level), the teacher guidelines, and resource padlet. The resource padlet includes some of the key slides from the videos that you can download.

Students may progress through the series however fits your schedule, and they can view the videos and complete the assignments either together in a classroom setting or individually (or at the same time) at home. You would then host the live Q&A with me afterward.

Ideal for in-person, remote learning, OR hybrid!

My fee for in-person school visits is $1,000 a day (3 workshop hours), plus travel and lodging expenses.

But because I want this innovative learning opportunity to be easily affordable, I'm making this 5-part series available to you for the rock bottom intro price of only $150 for one classroom or $300 for a whole grade.

AND I'm willing to pitch in if you need help raising $300. For an extra $20, I'm willing to offer a set of 4 signed FENWAY AND HATTIE books as a raffle prize. Email me for info!
